BRAND WHITLOCK.

This little book was printed to show the world how Toledo is prepared to entertain its strangers, and it will give them some idea of the physical comforts they may enjoy while they are within our gates.

I have been asked to add a word of welcome, and in doing so I wish to assure all who come among us that they will find in Toledo a spirit of genuine hospitality, which is bigger and broader and better than any physical manifestation of it could possibly be. This is so because here is the real spirit of democracy, the spirit of brotherhood that holds all men in fraternal regard and is ready to welcome them, not only to its hotels and its homes, but to its hearts; out of this spirit we expect to develop the free city which has so long been the ideal of democratic institutions and the hope of the great heart of humanity. We hope to make a city in which every man shall have equal opportunity and the right and chance to live a good and useful, a beautiful and a kindly life; we hope to build a city in which material wealth will not count for half so much as spiritual worth, a city in which the real dignity of the citizen will be measured by character. To such a city, in this broad, inclusive spirit, all are welcome on equal terms.

The Farm

The Farm occupies an unique place among the summer resorts of Toledo. Situated as it is at the head of Collingwood avenue, nearer the city than any of the other resorts and the only place that can be easily reached by fine asphalt pavements all the way, it naturally commands the finest class of patronage in the city. Toledo's most prominent people can always be found enjoying the inviting shade of the cosy little park or the quiet retreats of the spacious verandas of the club house.

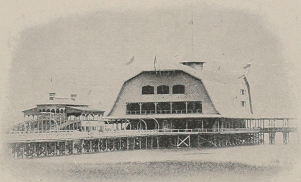

During the heated term the best of modern vaudeville is given in the theater at remarkably low summer prices when the strength of the bills is considered. In fact, Manager Joseph Pearlstein has made the Farm vaudeville standard so high that people know, and it's a common heard expression, that "there's always a good bill at the Farm."

The Farm itself is never closed, Mine Host Lou Hanner being ever ready to entertain his legion of friends in the clubhouse and cafe. The choicest of viands, deliciously prepared and temptingly served, are always to be had. There are also numerous private dining rooms and a fine banquet hall, with a capacity for three hundred guests.

Mr. Hanner gives his cafe his personal attention at all hours and maintains a clubhouse that is always the mecca for the social parties of the city, ladies knowing that there is never a thing that can possibly offend at the Farm. Mr. Hanner has spent a lifetime in learning the best modes of catering to people's wants and the Farm's reputation is a well-earned endorsement of his labor.

The Farm, both in the clubhouse and theater, has a clientele that nothing can detract from. People go there, week after week, assured of a good time and knowing that everything that can possibly add to their enjoyment will be done. In this way the resort, both in summer and winter, has indeed earned for itself the good will of select Toledoans.

The Casino

Under new management the Casino opened its doors to the public this year with a promise to give to the public this season the finest summer park in this section of the country.

Every effort has been made and no money has been spared in improving this naturally beautiful park for the season of 1907 and as completed it stands without one single thing lacking which could in any way add to its completeness.

The theater has been overhauled and remodeled and the bookings for the season are simply the finest artistic bookings that are to be had. There will be eight weeks of dramatic productions and eight weeks of musical comedy and light opera. Each week will introduce a star of national fame at the head of the attraction. This feature of the park will be second to nothing in the entire country.

The new cafe which has been added to the theater building is a model of beauty and completeness and is run on strictly high grade lines, catering only to the best but still at reasonable prices.

On the grounds proper there has been added, at a cost of over $10,000, a magnificent German Village, typical of its name in every way. In connection with this German village will also be a German restaurant, making this one of the real attractive features of the park.

The Toledo Railways and Light Company have arranged new trackage and new car stations which will help materially in caring for the crowds.

All of the concession holders have added to their holdings and the various devices of amusement have been overhauled, cleaned, painted and fixed up generally so that the Casino presents an entirely new appearance. Then, too, there have been added any number of amusement devices never before seen at the park, all of which go to make the promise of the management easy to keep.

That this will be the banner season is certain, and there is everything at the Park to make it such.

Toledo Beach

Toledo has always been known as a beautiful summer city and has only lacked but one essential to make it the ideal summer center for visitors—a first-class bathing beach. Visitors have always wondered how it was that, with the lake within almost a stone's throw, the citizens were deprived of this great boon of summer enjoyment.

Now, however, Toledo claims distinction of having the finest beach on fresh water—Toledo Beach, on the line of the Toledo, Ottawa Beach & Northern Company's line, but seventeen miles from the center of the city and only an hour's run. It sounds rather extravagant to say this is the finest beach on fresh water, but one visit will prove to any doubting ones that the statement is literally true.

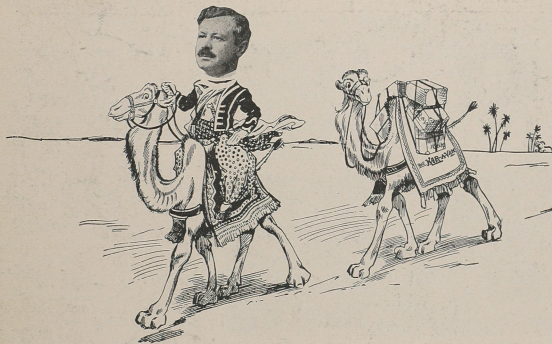

There is a stretch of three miles of solid sand, with a gradual slope to the water line and of such easy depth that children can wade out almost a thousand feet without danger. Arrangements have been made to care for almost a thousand people at one time at the Beach, a very commodious and handsome bathhouse having been erected, the largest in the state.

The company has also provided a very large dance hall of the Colonial style of architecture and has also erected a fine restaurant where chicken and frog leg dinners can be secured at reasonable prices, and lunches as well.

The grounds are especially adapted for campers and picknickers, who will be freely welcomed by the company at all times, no charges being made for such privileges. The ride from the city is one of the prettiest imaginable, taking the visitor past the Casino, over Ten Mile creek and through the famed Lotus beds in the marsh.

As the line is operated by the Toledo Railways and Light Company, an abundance of cars and frequent service is assured at all times. Tickets are on sale at the Interurban Station, where other information relative to the Beach may also be obtained.

THE QUALITY MARK

THE LAMSON STORE is known as the "QUALITY" STORE—the store where everything is sold with the guarantee that the money will be refunded if the article purchased is not perfectly satisfactory after careful home examination and comparison.

Naturally such methods, coupled with a watchful attention to Dame Fashion's dictations and the interests of their customers, have built up an enormous business in Northwestern Ohio, and a mail order business that extends to every state in the Union and beyond. Visitors to Toledo should be sure and visit this busy, interesting business house.

The Boody House

It is comparatively easy to name the items that make up component parts of a great and popular hotel. But to catch and portray the spirit that pervades it and makes it a Mecca for all men that foregather in cities away from their homes, is a more difficult task—yet this is exactly what we would like to picture in this great hotel, for the Boody House is known wherever men congregate as one of the great hotels of the country.

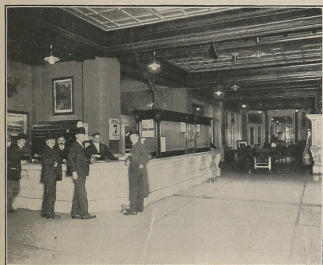

The comfort and elegance it offers in its nearly three hundred guest rooms large size electric lights; these are 50, 100 and 250 candle power, which makes this the most brilliantly lighted hotel in the middle west.

The great dining room on the ground floor, with its 1,200 electric lights, is probably the most beautiful and brilliant in the country, and the excellence of the cuisine makes this a gathering place for men and women who know the good things of life and where to find them.

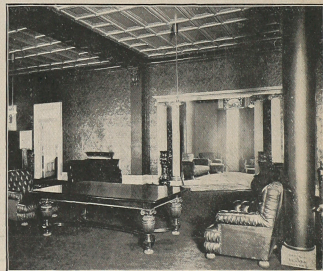

Nearly one hundred thousand dollars has just been spent in remodeling and refurbishing the Boody, and it is now strictly a modern hotel in every sense of the word; its fame extends quite beyond the confines of Toledo, and it is one of the city's institutions that all Toledoans are proud of.

cannot be excelled; over one hundred of these have private bath; all other rooms have hot and cold water; all the water is from its own artesian well, and is clear and pure.

FURNISH TRANSPORTATION FOR TOLEDO, THE CONVENTION CITY, ITS PARKS, AMUSEMENTS AND ITS SUMMER RESORTS.

Toledo's trolley system is unsurpassed in convenience of service and the accessible way of reaching all parks, hotels, places of amusement and the residence district. All cars pass within one block of the Post Office, on either Summit, St. Clair or Superior Streets.

From the many short and delightful trips that may be taken, an outline of a few of them is as follows:

OTTAWA PARK, comprising 200 acres, is situated west of Auburndale and north of West Bancroft. The popularity of this natural park with its alluring scenery, draws thousands of people during the summer. You can spend an hour here to advantage. The fare is 5c. Take Dorr Street car marked Ottawa Park.

WALBRIDGE PARK is located at the end of Broadway overlooking the Maumee River. Contains zoological gardens, beautiful flower beds and pavilion. Adjoining the park is "The Scenic," the Coney Island of Toledo. Take Broadway car. Fare 5c.

LAKE ERIE PARK & CASINO is located at the end of Summit Avenue on Maumee Bay. The Casino Building is 200x300 and built out on the waters of Lake Erie, 1,000 feet from shore; seating capacity, 5,000 people. Plays New York's latest successes in musical shows from May 30th until September 8th. This, with the beautiful park, magnificent grove, makes the Casino the finest resort in this part of the country. Fare 5c. Take Huron or South Street cars.

OHIO STATE ASYLUM is located at Detroit and Arlington Avenues. The grounds are magnificent and the buildings elegant and commodious. Take South Street cars marked "Asylum."

HANNER'S FARM is located at Collingwood and Cherry, contains bowling alleys and theatre. Vaudeville afternoon and evening. Fine restaurant and cafe. Fare 5c. Take Cherry Street Car.

RIVER BELT DIVISION of the historic Maumee Valley. The charming views and historic spots that greet the passenger on a trip along the Maumee River, rightfully named the Hudson of the West, is unsurpassed in beauty. A little less than two hours is required to make the trip. Cars start from the Interurban Station every twenty-six minutes, going out Broadway through a fine residence portion of the city, passing Walbridge Park, Country Club, the summer home of Toledo's aristocracy, Children's Home, with its large and beautiful buildings.

FORT MIAMI, a place of historical interest, occupied by General Anthony Wayne when he defeated the Indians in the battle of Fallen Timbers, August 20th, 1794.

MAUMEE, claimed by some authorities to be derived from the French name "Au Miami," stands on an elevation of 100 feet above the water level. Here was the scene of many skirmishes during the war of 1812.

FORT MEIGS, the most important and imposing of the fortifications of the Maumee Valley and the great northwest, was constructed by General Harrison's troops under the superintendency of Captain Wood, of the Engineers' Corps, early in 1813.

PERRYSBURG, half hidden by the luxuriant trees that line its broad avenues, was named to commemorate Perry's great victory on Lake Erie. A monument has been erected at this place in memory of the soldiers and sailors of the various wars of the nation.

From Perrysburg the line continues along the banks of the Maumee through a beautiful woodland section to Rossford, where the Ford Plate Glass Works, the largest in the world, are located. From Rossford the line enters the city by the way of East Toledo and the Cherry Street Bridge. The cost of this, one of the most beautiful of trips, is 25c.

Space will not permit a description of Toledo's new bathing resort, Toledo Beach, description of which you will find in another part of this book. For information and special car rates, address Passenger Department, Smith & Baker Building, Toledo, Ohio.

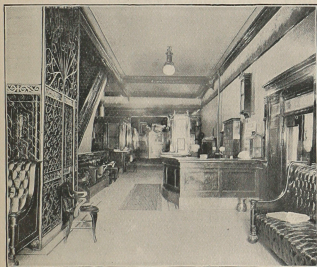

St. Charles Hotel

The St. Charles Hotel might well be termed the business man's hotel of Toledo. It caters to the business part of the traveling public, while the location at the corner of Madison Ave. and Superior St. gives it the great advantage of being right in the center of the office building district, and within a radius of a few blocks of this hostelry, the large per cent. of all the business of the city is transacted, as the Postoffice, the Chamber of Commerce and the banks are all here.

American plan with rates of $2.00 to $4.00 per day. The dining room serves the very best of meals and nothing that the market affords will be found lacking to suit the taste of the epicurean. The St. Charles has long been one of Toledo's most famous hotels, and as long as its affairs are conducted in their present commendable manner it will continue to hold its share of patronage.

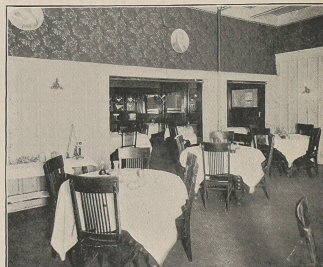

The location, connected with the fact that the sample rooms are extra large and brilliantly lighted make this house the favorite headquarters of the traveling salesman.

OFFICE

The hotel was very thoroughly remodeled and refurnished only about a year ago, and has that air of cleanliness and comfort so essential to hotel life. There are one hundred and thirty-five guest rooms, with telephones in every room, electric light and hot and cold water, and thorough ventilation.

A short time ago the St. Charles changed from the European to the

The development of the modern hotel is one of the phenomena of the present day that shows the highest type of comfort to the individual. It is at once the home, the business place, and the social center—the club, in short, of a large number of men who, for a time or permanently, use it for their abode. At 35 St. Clair street is located the St. Clair Hotel, which embodies all the points that are desirable as a permanent or transient home. The St. Clair has adopted both the American ing and remodeling, and it is now strictly modern in all its appointments. The chef is noted for presenting the best the market affords in the best way, and this hotel has been the scene of many banquets of societies and associations.

The St. Clair is one of those comfortable hotels that, when a man once stops there, he forms the "St. Clair habit" and goes there again and again; in fact, it remains a remembrance that is always pleasant, so that this hotel is nearly always crowded. The Widell is unique:

A thoroughly modern European hotel with Turkish baths, medical baths, and scientific massage as a feature makes this probably the only place of its kind in the country.

"The Widell" is strictly fire-proof, thus assuring safety with genuine comfort. It has fifty large well lighted, thoroughly heated and ventilated rooms, and the swimming pool and shower baths are free to all guests of the house and the traveling public has been quick to recognize these features and give a generous patronage.

It is not only as a hotel that the Widell is famed, but it is also noted for its baths and scientific massage.

The facilities are very complete for Turkish baths, medical baths, such as electric, "Finsen violet rays," baking process—and here, by the way, the temperature can be regulated to a nicety and can be indicated from 100 to 600 degrees Fahrenheit.

The Hofbrau

It has been but a short time since the Hofbrau sprang into existence, but already its success has proved the wisdom of the investment. The Hofbrau caters especially to after-theatre parties and has the finest and most up-to-date cafe and ladies' and gentlemen's restaurant in the state. The views which appear upon this page fail to do full justice to this magnificent cafe. Mr. Joe Kest, the proprietor, has had wide experience in the hotel business and gives the place his personal supervision. It is located at 322 Summit street, and theatre parties can find cars to all parts of the city passing the door.

No expense has been spared in making this cafe the most elaborate and sumptuously appointed in this section.

The cuisine is of the best and supplies not only the best the market affords in staple dishes, but sea food, frogs' legs and the rarer dainties and delicacies not to be found in the usual restaurant, and Mr. Kest's long experience stands him in good stead and enables him to furnish his patrons the dishes and refreshments which no other cafe is able to supply.

The growing patronage of the Hofbrau, which began with their entrance into the field, is their best testimonial and bids fair to continue indefinitely.
